Attachment 2: Persons involved in the consensus process and their areas of expertise

Name/professional background	Role/expertise
Bernhard Steinweg Master of Medical Education (MME Germany) Paediatric and Adolescent Physician, Paediatric Cardiologist	Member of the Committee on Staff and Organizational Development in Teaching (POiL) of the Association for Medical Education (GMA); Managing Director of the Dean's Office for Student Affairs and Head of the Medical Education Programme at the Faculty of Medicine, Bonn; responsible for the development and implementation of a compulsory medical education training programme for physician authorised to provide postgraduate training on behalf of the North Rhine Medical Association
Ulrike Sonntag Certified psychologist and medical education specialist	Head of the Competence Center for Postgraduate Training Berlin at Charité – University Medicine Berlin; Co-chair of the section for postgraduate training of the German Society of General Medicine and Family Medicine (DEGAM). Development and implementation of train-the-trainer (TTT) courses for postgraduate medical educators at the Competence Center for Postgraduate Training Berlin and the Berlin Medical Association
Friederike Bennett Internist, Intensive Care and Emergency Medicine Physician, PG Dip Medical Education (University College London)	Member of the GMA's Committee on postgraduate medical training, Deputy Chair of Postgraduate Training Committee and member of the Joint Continuing Professional Development Committee of the Berlin Medical Association, member of the 'New Learning and Examination Methods' working group of the German Medical Association (BÄK)
Folkert Fehr Paediatric and adolescent physician, paediatric neurologist, group practices for paediatrics in Sinsheim	Physician authorised to provide postgraduate training, Co-Chair of the GMA's Committee on postgraduate medical training, Speaker at the Standing Conference (StäKo) on 'postgraduate medical training' of the German Medical Association (BÄK)
Eckhart G Hahn Master of Medical Education (MME-Bern), Internist, Professor Emeritus University Hospital Erlangen, Friedrich-Alexander University of Erlangen-Nuremberg	Member of the GMA's postgraduate medical training Committee; publications on postgraduate medical training in the context of hospital reform and on the theoretical framework of health and illness (Meikirch model).
Raphael Kunisch Master of Medical Education (MME Germany) Specialist in General Medicine	Member of the Executive Board of the Association for Medical Education (GMA), member of the GMA's postgraduate medical training, member of the 'Examination Formats' working group of the Society for University Teaching in General Practice (GHA), Head of the 'Teaching' division at the Institute of General Practice, Faculty of Medicine, University of Augsburg, lecturer at the Competence Center for Postgraduate Training in General Practice Bavaria (KWAB)
Thomas Kollewe Specialist in (medical) Education	Co-Chair of the GMA Committee on Staff and Organizational Development in Teaching, responsible for the medical education program at the Frankfurt Centre for Medical Education at the Institute for Medical Education and Clinical Simulation, Goethe University Frankfurt
Eva K. Hennel Master of Medical Education (MME Germany), PhD (Medical Education, University of Bern, Switzerland) Physician, medical education researcher	Co-Chair of the GMA-Committee on Postgraduate Training, Head of Research at the Swiss Institute of Medical Education, SIME Swiss Institute of Medical Education, Bern, Switzerland

Attachment 2 to Steinweg B, Sonntag U, Bennett F, Fehr F, Hahn EG, Kollewe T, Kunisch R, Hennel EK. A competency framework for programme directors, teachers and clinical supervisors in postgraduate medical training: A position paper by the committees for personnel and organizational development in teaching (POiL) and postgraduate medical training (WB) of the DACH Association for Medical Education (GMA). GMS J Med Educ. 2026;43(7):Doc100. DOI: 10.3205/zma001894